An Ancient Belief.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and his quick relief which it affords is one worth many times its cost. For sale by W. L. Dewoody & Co., druggists.

A MYSTERIOUS BLAZE.

J. A. Racop's Paint Store Set on Fire
Thursday Evening at an Early Hour.

Early Thursday evening the fire departments were called to J. A. Racop's paint and paper store on Pine street, between Third and Fourth avenues.

They responded promptly and soon had on a stream of water, which was held in readiness until the blaze could be investigated by Chief Senyard and his men. The fire was in the rear part of the building, a wooden partition being the burning parts. The blaze was extinguished without the aid of the hose, water buckets being used with good effect. The damage was very slight.

There is a mystery surrounding this fire. When Chief Senyard made an entrance into the building he found the front door open. Several men were standing near it but he did not have time to inquire into the matter at that time. Later he looked for the men but they had disappeared. It is thought that the building was entered, robbed and then set on fire.

Had the fire occurred at a later hour, there is no doubt but that it would have been a very costly and destructive one, as oils, paints and other liquids, easily ignited, are in the building.

GOODWIN--BRENNAN.

Two Popular Young People Married
Here Thursday Evening.

A quiet home wedding occurred at the residence of Mrs. B. E. Brennan, on East Second avenue, Thursday evening.

The contracting parties were Miss Noma Goodwin, of St. Francis, Ark., and Mr. Dan Brennan, of this city. Only a few friends witnessed the ceremony, which was conducted by Rev. J. M. Lucey.

The bride is a very pretty young lady and has many admiring friends. She is a member of one of the most prominent families in this state and Mr. Brennan is to be congratulated upon winning such a lovely prize. The groom is a well known and popular employee of the Cotton Belt here. He is a young man of excellent habits and is held in high esteem by all his acquaintances.

We extend to the happy couple our best wishes and congratulations and hope that their future life may be filled with happiness and success.

RAINEY FOUND GUILTY.

Fined $500 and Costs and Sentenced to One Year in the Pen.

Tom Rainey, the negro man recently arrested on a charge of intimidation, was tried by a jury in Justice Vance's court Thursday afternoon.

The charge was based on Rainey's actions in trying to prevent a negro woman from moving her household goods from his property. He carried out his threat with the aid of a shot gun.

Attorney S. M. Taylor represented Rainey and made an able fight in his behalf, but the case was against him and so was the verdict. Attorneys H. R. C. Foster and Creed Caldwell represented the state. The jury gave out a verdict of one year in the penitentiary, a $500 fine and costs, the lowest penalty for such a crime. The attorney for the defendant will probably appeal the case.

AT TRINITY.

ARCHDEACON WEBBER, AN ABLE MISSION WORKER, IS HOLDING SERVICES.

"IDEAL CHRISTIAN LIFE,"

The Subject of a Brilliant Discourse—Will Be Here
One Week.

Venerable Archdeacon Percy C. Webber, of Boston, Mass., one of the brainiest men and most talented speakers doing mission work under the Episcopal church in the United States, is conducting a mission at Trinity church in this city.

He began his services at that church Thursday evening before a very appreciative congregation. His subject was "The Ideal Christian Life," and most ably did he deal with it. He is a forcible and eloquent talker and should be heard by every person in this city. This morning at 7:30 o'clock he held holy communion and at 10 o'clock delivered an address "On Prayer."

Archdeacon Webber will hold services at Trinity church here for one week as follows. Every morning, celebration of holy communion with a five minute talk, at 7:30. At 10:30 each morning a short service with address. Each afternoon at 4 an address. Every evening at 8 o'clock service with address.

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock he will deliver an address to men only. All the men in the city are invited to be present. All are invited to attend his other meetings.

Of Archdeacon Webber, Rt. Rev. Wm. M. Brown, D. D., in his recent address before the diocese council, said:

"One of the most successful and conservative of all our American missionaries is the Ven. Percy Clinton Webber, D. D., archdeacon of Madison. It has been our good fortune to secure the services of this gifted and self sacrificing man for two seasons, and I hope that he may continue to come to us annually. He has so far conducted missions at Trinity Cathedral, Little Rock, Helena, Camden, Batesville, Hot Springs and Fort Smith.

"These missions have in every case brought forth excellent fruit. I feel that the bishop and diocese of Arkansas are greatly indebted to the good archdeacon for his powerful evangelistic efforts not only in our mission field, but in some of our largest parishes."

SOUTHERN DEVELOPMENT.

In a letter upon the industrial rehabilitation of the South, Joseph J. Willett, of Anniston, Ala., says:

"Did you ever see a bee hive when the hive was full of honey? How lazily and slowly the bees go in and out. Did you ever see this same hive when it had been stripped of its honey? How unceasingly and industriously the bees work until it is full again. So it is with the South. Until the civil war slavery was so profitable that all the South's earnings were invested in slaves and land, and our minerals and other natural resources remained undeveloped, but when by the fortunes of war our bee hive was stripped of its honey and slavery was no longer possible, or even desirable, it became necessary for us to develop what we had hitherto neglected, and we are applying the lessons we have learned from the bees.

HACKS VS. CARS.

A Determined Effort Being Made by Little Rock Strikers to Carry Their Point.

The Little Rock street car strike is still on and "cothin' doing," with the exception of ten cars, which are being run by non-union men. The strikers put out six hacks for the purpose of carrying passengers in opposition to the street railway. The teams have banners with the inscription "Union Transportation, Fare 5 cents." The hacks follow the general route of the street car tracks and make slight lateral digressions for the benefit of passengers. They are being liberally patronized.

No violence has been attempted against the cars or the non-union men employed, and there is a very decided movement on foot to bring about an arbitration of the differences.

A monster street parade took place Thursday night headed by a brass band and participated in by all the labor organizations of the city.

In the parade there were ten unions represented. Among the banners and transparencies were the following:

"Carpenters' Union, No. 539 will walk."

"Typographical Union No. 92. Their relatives and friends—with the street car employees."

"Boston baked beans lost the right to carry a gun. You don't amount to much, anyway."

"Union forever. In union there is strength."

"Street Railway Union. We are right and bound to win."

"We represent the railroad unions and sympathize with the street car men."

"All we ask is justice. Motor men and conductors."

"Boston baked beans! Never!"

"Tailors' Union. Walk? I guess yes."

"Plumbers' Union. We walk."

"Painters' Union. We don't want to ride with scabs."

"The strike is just. Laundry Union."

"Clerks' Union. Don't ride."

"Hod Carriers' Union, colored. White folks, with you always."

"Bricklayers' Union. We get 45 cents an hour and are union men. We feel sorry for the street car men who ask only 14 cents."

COUNCIL HAS ADJOURNED

Was One Filled With Importance and Interest and a Big Success.

The Diocese of Arkansas has closed its twenty-eighth annual council, which was recently held in Little Rock. The meeting was a most important and interesting one and there was a large attendance.

Among those on a special committee to get funds for the theological department of the university of the south is Rev. W. D. Buckner, of this city. This brilliant gentleman was re-elected one of the standing committee, and elected substitute to the general convention.

He was also elected one of the board of managers. These several selections cast quite an honor to Rev. Buckner and he is well worthy of them.

Among the other Pine Bluffians who were honored at this meeting were Mr. N. B. Trulock, who was appointed one of three laymen as a special committee to increase the funds for aged and infirm clergy. Rev. D. L. Trimble, who was named as one of a special committee to draft a biographical sketch of the late Bishop Pierce for publication. Mr. N. B. Trulock was also elected a substitute, clerical, to the general convention and one of the board of managers of the diocese mission. Mr. Trulock presented his report as treasurer, showing a gratifying and satisfactory condition of the diocese finances.

Before the meeting adjourned the thanks of the council were tendered to Messrs. J. B. Trulock, Mike Danaher, M. A. Austin and S. M. Taylor, all of this city, for gratuitous assistance rendered the trustees of the Episcopal fund.

OUTLOOK DISCOURAGING.

Cotton Market Never Experienced
Such Bullish Statistics and Weather Conditions as Exists.

The following special was recently sent out from New Orleans by an experienced cotton man:

Never in the history of the cotton market have we seen such bullish statistics and weather conditions. From the reports gathered here it seems that every branch, creek and river, from Texas to South Carolina, has been overflowed for the past few days. This not only causes another week or ten days' delay, but owing to the fact of large prices paid for seed through the south this past fall, the farmers sold all except enough for absolute planting purposes, and in many sections there will not be sufficient seed for replanting the crops that have already been put in the ground. Aside from this fact the river bottoms being the first that is usually planted throughout the country, it will be necessary to replough or to break up all of the ground that has been ploughed during the spring. Again there is a cry of insufficient labor from Georgia, Alabama and parts of Mississippi. On the whole, the outlook is very discouraging and the cry of distress and backwardness has not really begun."
